If it doesn't, and you want a bigger flag, you will have to find a new sheet. If you are okay with a smaller flag measure and mark the correct proportions, then cut. Recommended measurements are ones with which the length units can be easily and evenly divide into 4. These include 2 units: 4 units, 4 units: 8 units, and 8 units: 16 units. 2 Divide your paper into sections. Turn the sheet so it is in landscape mode. Lay your ruler horizontally across the width. Make three small, evenly placed ticks at the top of your paper with your pencil. This will section the sheet into four. Lightly erase the tick marks. 3 Make the red sections. Line your ruler up vertically with the first tick mark from the previous step. Use your red marker to draw a line down the paper along the ruler. Color from the line to the edge of the paper. Repeat for the third mark. 4 Find the centerline. Align your ruler with the second tick in the middle of your paper. Using your pencil, lightly draw a line along your ruler. Flip your paper over and fold along this line. The colored side should face out. 5 Draw half of the maple leaf. Using your pencil, sketch half of the maple leaf. This will include one half-section (1.5 points), one full section (3 points), one point, and half of the stem. Try to center the leaf as best you can. 6 Draw the rest of the leaf. Flip your folded paper over and set it against a light source. This light source can be a window, lightbox, or computer screen. You will be able to see the outline of the half leaf you draw in the previous step. Trace this with your pencil. 7 Unfold your paper. You should now have two colored sections, a centerline, and the outline of a leaf. Erase the centerline completely, and lightly erase your leaf outline. 8 Color your leaf. Based on the light outline, fill the maple leaf with red. Your flag is done! Consider displaying it. You could frame your flag or glue it to a stick. Get creative! Also removed "otherwise undefined" because I don't agree that the leaf is undefined. The shape of the leaf is officially defined by means of government drawings. 14:19, 23 January 2019603 x 303 (1 KB)MapGrid (talk | contribs)Maple leaf updated to match File:Flag of Canada (construction sheet 2).svg. Text paths changed to simple text to reduce file size. Flag is 600x300; 3px black border lines are centered over top of the flag edges and therefore project 1.5px past the edges; this results in an image size of 603x303. 04:56, 8 December 2008600 x 300 (83 KB)Bosonic dressing (talk | contribs){{Information |Description=Canadian flag construction sheet (updated) |Source=self-created, based on Flag of Canada.svg |Date=7 December 2008 |Author=Bosonic dressing |Permission=PD |other_versions= }} 04:44, 8 December 2008600 x 300 (23 KB)Bosonic dressing (talk | contribs){{Information |Description=Canadian flag construction sheet (updated) |Source=self-created, based on Flag of Canada.svg |Date=7 December 2008 |Author=Bosonic dressing |Permission=PD |other_versions= }} 00:55, 30 December 2007600 x 300 (71 KB)BetacommandBot (talk | contribs) Transwiki approved by: w:en:User:Dmcdevit { {{Information |Description= {{en|Modified from w:en:en:Image:Flag of Canada.svg, the sheet is based from Category:Flags of Canada}} |Source= You cannot overwrite this file.
